

New Endocrinologists Join
Chicago Children's Diabetes Center at La Rabida Children's Hospital

Two board certified pediatric endocrinologists this fall joined La Rabida Children's Hospital, bringing pediatric diabetes management and training experience to Chicago's only certified pediatric diabetes program.

Courtney Finlayson, MD, and Jennifer Miller, MD, both board-certified pediatric endocrinologists are now part of an interdisciplinary team at the Chicago Children's Diabetes Center at La Rabida that offers a team approach to care.

Drs. Finlayson and Miller also are attending physicians in the division of Endocrinology at Children's Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Finlayson practiced at Children's Hospital Boston, the pediatric teaching hospital of Harvard University, before joining the Chicago Children's Diabetes Center at La Rabida.

She earned a Doctor of Medicine degree from the Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine in 2003 and completed her pediatric residency training at Rush University in 2006.

In 2009, she completed pediatric endocrinology fellowship training at Children's Memorial and McGaw Medical Center of Northwestern University.

Dr. Finlayson has also served as a staff physician for the American Diabetes Association's Triangle D Camp.

She sees patients at La Rabida's main campus in Chicago.

Dr. Miller practiced at Edward Hospital, Central DuPage Hospital and Children's Memorial before joining the CCDC at La Rabida, where she had previously seen patients as part of her pediatric endocrinology fellowship training.

Dr. Miller earned a Doctor of Medicine degree from the Ohio State University College of Medicine and Public Health in 2001 and completed pediatric residency training at Children's Memorial Hospital in 2004 and her pediatric endocrinology fellowship training at the University of Chicago Comer Children's Hospital in 2007.

Dr. Miller, too, has served as an ADA-Triangle D Camp staff physician since 2003.

She sees patients at La Rabida's main campus in Chicago, as well as New Lenox.
